

Markit Enterprise Data Management: Managed services

Hosting, managing and standardising data management needs.

Markit EDM managed services enables customers to simplify data management delivery.

Firms can optimise infrastructure, maximise compliance and minimise costs while benefitting from a strategic, scalable approach to improving operations.

Data management needs differ from business to business. Business and regulatory requirements change and evolve. Mapping out a firm's data architecture can be complex and expensive.

Markit EDM's managed service enables firms to benefit from Markit's years of expertise in how best to approach data management. Variable costs can be managed carefully while firms retain control of their data.
